Topic Six: She understands the meaning of love, as defined in the Bible.

What are some loving ideas for helping my child follow through with cleaning her room?

- Tell her you will walk through the room & give her the "Top Five" areas that need work. Then, take a "before picture." Take a "half time picture" <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> hour later, and after one hour, take another picture. Take another hour if needed, after a break. Post the clean picture for all to see & to remind her how great a clean room looks!
- 2. Put a "plan to clean" on paper, with cute stickers. Example:
  - 1. Make the bed look smooth & neat.
  - 2. Pick up anything on the floor. Put in box to give away, or throw away...or put it away in drawer or closet.
  - 3. Vacuum floor.
  - 4. Organize clothes in closet

Give 24 hrs notice. Have her check off the areas as she cleans. Set a time limit, using a timer.

- 3.Go with your son and be a "clean detective." Between the two of you, and your magnifying glass, write down what needs to be done. Maybe you will have 6 categories. Cut the six categories in strips and put into a little box. Your son can mix them up and pull out one at a time to clean. Give him a quarter or a marshmallow for each category completed. When the room is clean, give him 100 points on a chart. This could be exchanged into spending money for a vacation.
- 4. Make a punch card for Saturdays and call it "Clean up Club" A reward is given when the card is full. Make the card from an index card - very colorful to their taste! Choose only one day of the week for cleaning, or they will procrastinate.
