

Q & A Forum

Biblical Encouragement for Moms

September 30, 2012

Topic Four: It is not “will power,” but God’s power that brings ultimate success w/our children.

Setting goals will help you focus on the most important things in life.
What are some goals that you wish to accomplish in your children by God’s power?

1. I desire, above all else that my children will come to know Christ as their personal Savior, and love Him most.
2. I desire to stay calm and prayerful when troubles come our way.
3. May each of my children respect and see Christ in me.
4. May I keep an organized home, training my children to help me in this area.
5. May our home have the fragrance of Christ, with the study & appreciation of God’s Word.
6. I desire to enjoy my children and help them in every area of life,